MEMPHIS, TENN., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1885.

VOI. XLV-NO. 32

Norming better tells the story of the progress of Memphis than the figures and facts yesterday published by the Argant as given by the back-tax collector and the receiver by one of our reporters. It is really extraordinary and very creditable to the people and public officials that while paying the current tax demands at a rate high enough to meet all the necessities of the city, county and State, they have so reduced the back taxes due the fold city of Memphis as to leave with interest added but little more than $500,000 to year. Besides this very plain and energian.
